DEBATE VERY SPIRITED

GAGED IN A GREAT BATTLE. Messrs. Horr and Harvey Have Difficult Work to Keep Their Tempers on the

Opening Night of the Fight-The Former Believes in the Use of Gold and Silver as Money to the Fullest Extent That Can be Done on Sound Business Principles. Chicago, July 16 .- There began this it afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Illinois club what promises to be one of the most noteworthy forensic battles ever fought. The issue is gold or silver for the national currency and the champion of the one is Roswell G. Horr of Michigan; of the other, W. H. Harvey of Chicago of Coins' Financial School game. The debate, which will be delivered in chunks of about 1,000 words each, is expected to continue eight days. To the upholders of the yellow meta the privilege of opening was granted according to agreement. Mr. Horr was obliged to confine his preliminary arguments to 1,000 words and was answered by Mr. Harvey to the same extent Then the Michigan congressman replied and was again followed by the expounder of free coin. After this both men stood ready to answer any question which might be propounded to them by members of the audience. The debate took place in the assembly room

Dr. Homer Thomas, president of the Illinois club, called the assemblage to order. He introduced Hon. H. G. Miller and ex-Judge W. A. In his opening remarks ex-Congressman Horr in part said: "The foundation of the discussion of which we are about to enter is a book published by Mr. Harvey, entitled "Coin's Financial School." aim and object of that book is to convince the people that this government alone should at once enter upon the free and unlimited coinage of silver upon the ratio of 16 to 1.

I will state that from the beginning to the end of the book there is hardly proposition made to which I give my assent. I do not remember ever to have examined a book carefully in which I found so few statements that consider worthy of belief, and I certainly never saw so many absolute er-rors crammed into a few pages. BODIES OF TWO MURDERED GIRLS Found in a Toronto Cellar-The Murderer

Was a Native of New Haven. Toronto, Ont., July 16 .- The bodies of Etta Alice and Neille Pitezel, the missing daughters of Benjamin F. Pitezel, were found by Detective Cuddy of Toronto and Gever of Philadelphia yesterday afternoon buried in the cellar of the house, 16 St. Vincent street. H. H. Holmes, now under arrest in Philadelphia, is believed by the police to have deliberately murdered the two girls after, as the officers allege, he had first murdered their father in Philadelphia and their brother in Detroit. Inquirles begun by the police led to the knowledge that Holmes and the children lived at the house in question, and a search was made by the two officers. BODIES FOUND. When the cellar was searched it appeared to the detectives that something had disturbed the cellar floor, and arming themselves with shovels, they began to dig. A short distance below the surface they came across the arm and a portion of the head of one of the were both nude and had lain there probably since last October. City Detective Inspector Spark was communicated with, and he gave instructions that the two bodies be removed by an undertaker. Coroner Orr was informed of the ghastly discovery, and he has called an inquest, to be held at police headquarters to-morrow night. It is understood that the jury will meet pro forma, and after reviewing the bodies will adjourn for one week to enable the authorities to work up evidence. The preliminary medical examination showd that the children had been suffocated. There is no doubt about the identification, as the neighbors identified the photograph of Holmes, and said that the bodies found to-day were those of the children he had with him. The police are working hard to secure the evidence necessary to put the crime on Holmes. Already they have discovered I be- that on the day he left the neighborhood

Holmes, the alleged murderer of the girls, is held in Philadelphia on a charge of conspiracy and a nice legal point now presents itself. The murder having been committed in Canada, the accused must be tried within its boundaries but as Holmes has pleaded guilty to one charge in the United States he may insist on being sentenced for that.

HOLMES' HISTORY.

H. H. Holmes, alfas Herman W. Mudgett, alias H. H. Howard, was born in New Haven, Conn, and attended a medical school to Burlington, Vt., and later in Ann Arbor, Mich. He was married at the latter place. He and a friend swindled an insurance company in Chi cago out of $12,000 soon after graduat ing. He made another haul of $10,000 in a similar way. Holmes went into the drug business and speculated. His wife went home and he married another woman, with whom he went to California Returning in about a year he went to housekeeping with the typewriter of company he had formed. He tried to cheat a fire insurance company out of $60,000, but failed, and learning that his typewriter and her sister had inherited $50,000, he laid a scheme to get the money. The sister came to live with them and disappeared, while he and Minnie Williams, the typewriter girl, took up their abode at the Plaza hotel, Chi-Ind., where he bailed B. F. Pitezel out of jail. From there he went to Franklin, Ind., where he married Miss Yoke and they spent their honeymoon in Den ver, where Holmes made $27,000 in speculation. In Philadelphia later on h and Pitezel played the last card. Pit-Mutual for $10,000. AWARDED VICTORIA CROSS. A British Captain Honored for Braver, Chitral-Another Reward.

London, July 16.-Captain Whitechurch has been awarded the Victoria Cross for bravery during the slege of Chitral. On March 3 he took part in a reconnoisance from the Chitral fort and was attacked by a large body of Umra Khan's troops. Captain Baird of the British force was wounded and lost to view, when Captain Whitechurch reappeared, carrying the wounded man on his back. With this burden he fought his way back to the fort, being obliged to drop the wounded man several times n order to lead bayonet charges against the stone walls, from behind which the enemy kept up a galling fire upon the British. When Captain Baird died on the following day he strongly urged Dr. Robertson, the British political agent, to record the bravery displayed by Captain Whitechurch.

Colonel Kelly, who refleved the Chitral garrison after accomplishing a brilliant military achievement in leading a flying column from Gilgit to Chitral, passing over the snow-covered Shander Pass, some 12,000 to 14,000 feet above the level of the sea, in bitterly cold weather, has been made a C. B. and has been sappointed aide-de-camp to the queen with the rank of brevet colonel. The other officers who distinguished themselves during the Chitral campaign have received the distinguished service order and have been promoted.

ING NEARLY COMPLETED.

The Elegant Quarters of the First National Bank When They Move Into Their New Build ng-Directors' Room to be the Finest in the Building-Double Elevators
-The Fine View Obtained From the Roof.

The elegant new First National bank building on the corner of Church and Crown streets, which has been in the ourse of construction for considerable ver a year, is now fast nearing completion and it is a matter of only a few weeks before it will be entirely ready for occupancy. Charles D. Kinney, the mason builder, has had full charge of the carpenter, fron and mason work under contract and the work has been under his immediate supervision and that of Mr. C. A. Bedell, who is Mr. Kinney's assistant. The plans of the building were drawn by L. W. Robnson, the architect.

The building now stands 113 fee from the cornice to the sidewalk and is eight stories high. The first floor will be devoted exclusively to the use of the First National bank. The main room on the first floor, which is to be used as the public vestibule of the bank, is supported by five steel columns cov-ered with adamant and plaster of Paris. The walls and ceiling of the banking room are also finished in adamanting and plaster Paris. The basemnt is occupied with a series of safe deposit vaults which, as many who have watched the progress of the building will remember, were constructed in the firmes and most solid manner possible. Their construction occupied considerable time The electrical flatures, which lights the building and by which the two eleva-tors are run, are also in the basement On the first floor above the basemen in back of the main banking room is the book vault, which is in part con structed of white glazed brick, the money vault and another safe deposit vault. C. D. Kinney has the contract for a similar building, which will be even larger on the ground floor, but not so high as the First National bank building. It will be erected soon in Hartford for the Connecticut Life Annuity com pany. It will be seven stories high.

The committee appointed by the ten ants of the new bank building, consisting of E. C. Coolidge and C. K. Bush, to wait on the directors and ask for modification of the lease to certain provisions of which they object, has not as yet appeared to make their request. The directors of the building held a meeting yesterday morning, but no committe appeared. The lease was discussed, but it was decided that no change was needed, as there is nothing in the lease which should be objectionable to the tenants. About one-half of the tenants have already signed the lease and there is but little question that all will sign The directors have appointed Louis Beh ler janitor of the new building. He was for a long time janitor of the Insurance building.

Been Lynched. Butte, Neb., July 16.-There is general belief here that the cattle thieves captured by the vigilantes on Sunday have been lynched. Vigilantes have been after them for some time and found them camped in the stockade at Fair, and all ready to protect their stolen property. They were quickly surrounded, and the men, realizing the futility of resistance, surrendere to the vigilantes. They were disarmed, bound hand and foot and placed on their horses and started west, presumably for Kayapaha county. The men captured are Louis Zouadan, a resident of Spencer, Neb., S. C. Clark, C. were found. Few here think the cattle thieves will reach Springview, as the vigilantes are old farmers and seldom bring a rustler Hits-Cincinnati 22, Boston 9. EXCITEMENT NOT ENDED. Mrs. Stambuloff Says That the Police Were Implicated. Sofia, July 16.-The excitement into which the city was thrown by the attempted murder of ex-Premier Stambuoff has not subsided, but on the contrary has become intensified. Madame Stambuloff was not at home when her wounded husband was brought to his house, but came in soon afterwards. At first she was prostrated with sorrow, but she quickly recovered and atterwards went to the door and confronted a number of policemen, who were trying to enter, forbidding them to cross the threshhold. She charged the police with complicity in the attempt to murder her husband and demanded that they at once arrest the guilty persons. who, she declared, were well known to them. Madame Stambuloff then turned to the public prosecutor and several other officials who had arrived soon after her husband was brought home and compelled them to leave the house.

M. Petkoff, who was walking with M. Stambuloff when he was attacked, declares that just before the crime was committed he saw a number of gendarmes vanish in the distance. The attack was made just before dark in a street that is much frequented in the daytime, but is very quiet early in the evening. After the crime was committed the gendarmes appeared upon the scene and blew their whistles. Several arrests have been made in connection
